STAFF ANALYSIS

CONSISTENT WITH DEVELOPMENT POLICIES OF THE COMPREHENSIVE PLAN?

The request is consistent with the comprehensive plan. The future land use map does indicate future low density residential for this property and the surrounding residential neighborhood. While the R-3 district does not satisfy this requirement, the PD overlay does give Council the ability to approve a rezoning request that demonstrates deference to the intent of the future land use map and comprehensive plan. As this request, through its site plan submission, does indicate individual single-family units on the subject property, the request does meet the intent of the future land use map and comprehensive plan. The rezoning request is also consistent with another intent of the comprehensive plan, increasing infill development.

THE SUITABILITY OF THE SUBJECT PROPERTY FOR THE USES TO WHICH IT HAS BEEN RESTRICTED

The current zoning of R-1 is suitable at this property.

THE EXTENT THAT THE ZONING CHANGE WILL DETRIMENTALLY AFFECT NEARBY PROPERTY

The change in zoning to R-3-PD will not be detrimental to nearby property. The site plan that accompanies this request demonstrates single-family characteristics in building design. Additionally, due to the PD overlay, no future property owner or developer will be able to build what we think of as typical multi-family developments like apartment buildings without first receiving approval on a site plan from the City Council. In this way, the low-density residential intent is preserved.

Furthermore, a minimum 20-foot wide landscaped barrier will be required where this property abuts R-1 zoning districts to the South.

Additionally, as platted, the subject property would permit 8 single-family homes to be built. This proposal is calling for 11 single-family homes, 3 more than what is permitted by-right.

DISCUSSION

This request features type of development known generally as a ‘pocket neighborhood.’ This is a new type of development across the country, and communities have had success implementing this new, walkable, form of residential development in addressing the ‘missing middle’ of housing. In our area, an example of how these communities can be successful can be found in Bentonville, AR. The community is known as Black Apple and is very similar in size, scale, and design.

This request is compatible with the Comprehensive Plan. As the intent of the future land use map is for low-density residential, the site plan that has been submitted along with this request demonstrates how this project respects that intent.
Nearby properties will not be affected by this change. As previously discussed, this project demonstrates how it will maintain the single-family nature of the area by providing individual, discrete units that are not a multi-story apartment complex, but a walkable neighborhood of single-family units. Additionally, buffer requirements will be required where this property abuts the R-1 district.

Lastly, this portion of Jackson Ave. is classified as a collector-level street. While single-family residential does exist along this corridor, it is not inappropriate for higher densities of single-family dwellings to be located along this corridor.
