

Special Use Permit Procedures

Applicability. A special use permit provides flexibility for different uses within a zoning district and allows the potential for additional uses. These uses may not be appropriate generally throughout a district, but due to the specific design and operational characteristics of the use on a particular site or due to conditions around the proposed location of the use, could be appropriate in limited circumstances. These uses require a case-specific review to determine the compatibility in a specific context and location. Special use permits may be initiated by the property owner.

The special use permit process applies to uses identified as a special use in the applicable zoning district by Article 4, Table 4-03, Use Table.

Review Criteria. A special use permit shall be reviewed according to the following criteria:

1. The application furthers the intent of the proposed zoning district, does not conflict with the intent of any abutting districts, and is otherwise determined to be consistent with the comprehensive plan.
2. Any site development or construction proposed with the use complies with the requirements of this code, including all specific conditions for the particular use.
3. Whether any additional site-specific conditions are necessary to meet the purposes, intent, or design objectives of any applicable subsections of this code or are necessary to mitigate any other potential impacts that are specific to the proposed use.
4. The impact on the public realm, including the design and function of the streetscape and relationship of building and site elements to the streetscape.
5. Compatibility with the character of the area considering building scale, building form, architectural character, landscape, and site design.
6. Compatibility with other uses or potential development in the area considering operating characteristics such as hours of operation, visible and audible impacts, traffic patterns, intensity of use, and other potential impacts on adjacent property.
7. Whether a limited period for the permit is reasonably necessary to either limit the duration of the use, assess the use against changing conditions in the area, or ensure periodic reporting and on-going enforcement of the permit.
8. The adequacy of drainage, utilities, police, fire, refuse collection, and other public facilities and services.
9. The long-range plans applicable to the site and surrounding area are not negatively impacted considering the permanence of the proposed use, the permanence of existing uses in the area, and any changes in character occurring in the area.
10. The recommendations of professional staff or other technical reviews associated with the application.

Review Procedure. In addition to the general requirements in Table 2-1 and Section 2.01, the following requirements are specific to special use permit applications.

1. Applications may be accompanied by site plan where they are necessary to review conformance with standards of this code and any performance criteria for the particular uses.
2. The Director shall review the application and determine if the review or comment of any other department or agency is required.

3. The Planning Commission may recommend, and the City Council may approve any additional conditions on the use including the physical development, operations, maintenance or any other limitation it feels necessary to ensure the application meets the criteria in this location.

Effect of Decision. Approval of a special use permit, and satisfaction of all conditions of the special use permit, shall authorize the applicant to apply for a building permit, and other applicable permits. Approval shall be valid for one year, and any application not acted upon within this period shall be void and require a new application. A special use permit shall expire at end of any period specified in the permit, or if the use is abandoned for more than 12 months. Any expansion or other change in scale, intensity or operation of the use that could increase its impact shall require the permit to be amended through the same process as the original approval. A special use may be revoked through the same procedures granting the use, upon a finding that the conditions of approval have not been met, or the use has otherwise violated the provisions of this code or any other applicable law.
